Numb. 339.

THE Pennſylvania GAZETTE.

Containing the freſheſt Advices Foreign and Domeſtick.

From May 29. to June 5. 1735.

LONDON, Feb. 22.

THEY write from Paris, that in Caſe the War continues, the main Puſh will be made this Year in Lombardy: The Army is to conſiſt of 100,000 Men, to wit, 50,000 French, 24,000 Spaniards, and 26,000 Piedmonteſe. The French have at preſent 28,000 Men there, but 4000 Cavalry are about to return to the Rhine. 'Tis certain, the Court of France have very good Reaſons for not bending the entire Force of their Arms at preſent towards the Empire; and 'tis as certain, that they could have penetrated farther laſt Campaign, but for the ſame perſuaſive Reaſons, well known both at London and the Hague. The Fleet fitting out at Breſt and Toulon conſiſts of forty Sail of Ships of Line, and is intended to obſerve the Motions of the Engliſh.

They write from the Hague, that the Queſtion upon Baron Catwyck's being no longer qualify'd to to ſit in the Council of State in Holland, upon his accepting a Place under the Prince of Orange, having been generally regarded as his Highneſs's own Affair, the Succeſs laſt Week in their High Mightineſſes Aſſembly, is celebrated every where with great Rejoicings. The Party againſt his Highneſs would have treated him upon the Footing of a Foreign Prince, and conſequently his Service incompatible with a Place in the Council in Holland; but a Majority in the States determin'd it otherwiſe, by the Votes of 12 Towns againſt 7: The latter were Dort, Harlem, Delft, Amſterdam, Ganda, the Brill, and Gorcum; the former all North-Holland, Rotterdam, Leyden, Schiedam, Schonhove, &c.

The Inhabitants of Modena are diſconſolate for the Damage their City has receiv'd by the Troops of the Allied Army, the Palace, the Convents, even the Churches are converted into Quarters for the Soldiery; the Bridge, equal in Antiquity and Magnificence to moſt in Europe, has been demoliſh'd, to prevent any Surprize from the Enemy.

The brave Count Traun, who defended Capua ſo long againſt Fire, Sword, Famine and the Spaniſh Army, was very graciouſly receiv'd upon his Arrival at the Emperor's Court, and has been ſince ſent to command in Hungary.

On Monday laſt the Lord Fairfax kiſs'd His Majeſty's Hand, being ready to ſet out for his Propriety in Virginia, and on Wedneſday Orders were iſſu'd from the Admiralty to Capt. Compton, Commander of the Sea-Horſe, to land his Lordſhip there, and afterwards relieve the Guardſhip on that Coaſt.

London, March 11. The write from Vienna, that the German Officers were order'd to repair immediately to their Regiments on the Rhine, but that Prince Eugene had put off his Departure, in order to wait the Succeſs of the new Plan. The Sums which the Emperor has drawn together for the Expence of the Campaign, amount to 28 Millions of Florins, viz. 17 from the Hereditary Countries, 3 by the Produce of the Capitation-Tax, and 2 borrow'd of the Merchants in Flanders, 3 of thoſe in England and 3 in Holland.

Some Accounts ſay, that the Turks have made a ſecond Irruption upon the Emperor's Territories, and laid the Inhabitants under Contribution. They write from Conſtantinople, that the Imperial Miniſter at the Port having demanded of the Vizier the Reaſons for the Armaments in Boſnia, that Miniſter reply'd, "That he believ'd the Grand Signior "deſign'd thoſe Troops only as a Corps de "Reſerve, to be made uſe of in caſe of Ne-"ceſſity; and that he believ'd his Sublime "Highneſs would never break with the Em-"peror as long as his Imperial Majeſty, by "himſelf or Allies, offer'd no Cauſe of "Diſguſt to the Ottoman Port." This Anſwer, it ſeems, appear'd ſo ambiguous, that Mr. Tahlman deſir'd an immediate Explication. The Turks have actually 20,000 Men in Boſnia, and 25,000 in Turkiſh Croatia, with a Train of 36 Pieces of Ordnance, 700 Horſes laden with Powder, and 800 Camels with Ball.

Extract

Extract of a Letter from Paris.

" My Lord Waldegrave is perpetually in " Conference with the Cardinal Miniſter and " the Keeper of the Seals. Mr. Vanhoey, " the Dutch Ambaſſador, aſſiſted in that held " on Friday, and Expreſſes were diſpatch'd " immediately after it broke up, to London, " Madrid, Turin and the Hague. 'Tis be- " liev'd the Court cannot entirely reliſh ſome " of the Articles in the new Project for Peace, " but very poſſibly their Stomachs may come " to them by the time the Couriers return: " 'Tis at leaſt certain, that they will not de- " clare themſelves peremptorily till the Senſe " of their Allies has been taken on the Occa- " ſion. This Plan is ſaid to be propos'd, not " as a Thing to be forc'd upon the Pow- " ers at Variance, but as a proper Invitation " to bring them together in a Congreſs, to " engage them to a Suſpenſion of Arms, and " to ſerve as a Baſis for future Negociations; " no Accommodation being practicable with- " out ſtating the Demands of ſome, the Conceſ- " ſions of others, and eſtabliſhing a Standard " whereby to reſettle the Equilibrium of Pow- " er: It would likewiſe be impoſſible to hear " the ſoft Voice of Peace, unleſs the Mouths of " the Cannon could be firſt ſtopt. Freſh Or- " ders have been iſſu'd lately to all the Sea- " Ports, to haſten the Equipment of the Fleet, " which, 'tis ſaid, will conſiſt of 60 Sail of " Ships; and according to all Appearance " the Court is determin'd, in caſe the Peace " does not take Place, to exert their utmoſt " Force in the enſuing Campain."

We learn from the Rhine, that the Germans are in ſuch high Spirits there, that inſtead of keeping upon the Defenſive, they threaten to penetrate into the French Territories, and have already ſent Letters of Contributions into Alſace; to which the Inhabitants anſwer'd pleaſantly enough, that they were ready to pay all Demands, whenever the Imperialiſts ſhould think proper to come and receive them. Preparations are making for cantoning 50,000 Men between Mentz and Heidelberg.

The Spaniards have inveſted the Town of Orbitello, where there is a Garriſon of 1500 Germans; they are likewiſe advanced before Fort Hercules, which, 'tis believ'd, will make no Defence.

Count Wallis's Scheme was to ſend a large Detachment thro' the Eccleſiaſtical Territories to ſuccour thoſe Places; but the Imperial Council diſapprov'd it, and General Konigſegg was ſent away immediately, for fear the Count ſhould undertake any hazardous Enterprize. The Germans having Advice that Marſhal Broglio had drawn off moſt of his Troops from the Cremoneſe, were in full March, when the Poſt came away, to ſurprize that Country.

'Tis confirm'd that the Poles are in Sileſia, and carry all before them; they are marching directly towards Saxony, ſo that ſome extraordinary News may be ſoon expected from that Quarter. Some Letters from the Frontiers of Poland, mention the Death of the brave General Steinflicht; but other Accounts leave that Article doubtful.

'Tis ſaid that one of the Articles of the New Plan is, that Leghorn ſhall be made a free Port; that it ſhall be diſcharg'd of its Dependance on Tuſcany or Don Carlos, and ſhall be govern'd by a Senate of its own.

We hear that there is a great Miſunderſtanding ariſen between the Courts of Spain and Portugal.

Yeſterday Monſ. Chavigny, the French Miniſter, was at Court, and had a private Audience of his Majeſty.

Count Wallis is very buſy in Lombardy: He had actually ſent to Rome for a Paſſage for 16,000 Men through the Eccleſiaſtical Territories, with a Demand of Quarters and Proviſion as furniſh'd the Spaniards; he had order'd all his Officers to repair to their Troops by the 6th Inſtant, N. S. and had prepar'd a Train of Artillery, and every thing elſe neceſſary for an Expedition. 'Tis ſaid that his Deſign is to take Advantage of the Abſence of Don Carlos, and make an Attempt upon Naples, leaving a Garriſon in Mantua ſtrong enough to reſiſt all the Efforts of the Allies. The Pope and his Cardinals are terribly puzzled at this Demand of the Imperial General's, the French Ambaſſador having declar'd at the Vatican, that if the Germans have the Leave they ask, he ſhall immediately requeſt the like for 24,000 French. The Emperor's Army in Lombardy is at preſent completed to full 40,000 Men; the Numbers they have loſt by Sickneſs is hardly credible.

The Dantzickers have made Application to the Maritime Powers, that the reſtoring Fort Wechſellmunde be included in the Treaty of Accommodation.

Letters from Vienna mention, that the Bavarian Miniſter has lately preſented their Imperial Majeſties with the Picture of the young Electoral Prince, whence it's concluded, that his Marriage with one of the Archdutcheſſes is not unlikely to take Place. Count Konigſegg was to ſet out the Week before laſt for Italy.

Laſt Week came on, before the Lords of Juſticiary at Edinburgh, a Trial at the Inſtance of Tho. Murdoch of Cumloddan, and his Majeſty's Advocate, againſt Robert Cannon, commonly call'd of Killochy, for the Crime of wilful Perjury, in ſwearing himſelf duly qualify'd, as preſcrib'd by the late Act of Parliament, to vote at the Election of a Member for the Stewartry of Kirkcudbright, altho' another Gentleman was, long before the ſaid Election, in Poſſeſſion of the whole Lands, in Virtue whereof he claim'd to vote; when the ſaid Robert Cannon was, by a Sentence of the Court, outlaw'd, declar'd Fugitive, and his Moveables confiſcate, for his not ſtanding Trial.

They

They write from Warſaw, that M. Tarlo Palatin of Lublin, and the Staroſt Jacelski, with the Confederates for King Staniſlaus, are march'd in three Columns for Great Poland, and it is ſuppos'd will proceed to Poliſh Pruſſia, Major-General Steinflicht commanding the Vanguard. We hear that the ſaid Confederates have ſent the Caſtellan of Czerk's Son to Konigsberg, to deſire moſt inſtantly of King Staniſlaus to acquaint them what Support they are to expect, and that in caſe they cannot be aſſur'd of ſpeedy Succours, he would permit their making Terms for themſelves with this Court, it being impoſſible for them alone to maintain his Cauſe any longer, the Force againſt them being too powerful.

They write from Berlin, that the King of Pruſſia has received an Expreſs from the Frontiers, with the News that a Detachment of the Troops under Count Tarlo, commanded by General Steinflicht, had attack'd and defeated a Saxon Convoy conducted by Major-General Birckholts, with about 600 Dragoons. Theſe Letters add, that General Birckholts was very much wounded and taken Priſoner, and that moſt of his Detachment was cut to Pieces; and that the Saxons had loſt 40,000 Ducats which the ſaid Troops were convoying, three or four hundred Pair of Boots, and a good Quantity of Stores and Ammunition. The Letters from Warſaw of the 24th of Feb. N. S. which are juſt come, confirm theſe Advices.

They ſend a melancholy Account from Lorain, of the Deſolation that fine Country is like to undergo by means of the French Troops, tho' the Dutchy is actually under a Condition of Neutrality. Their Towns are unpeopled, the Peaſants taken from their Husbandry, their Corn and Hay conſum'd without Recompence, and their Carriages employ'd in tranſporting Forage to the French Army. No leſs than 30 Squadrons of Cavalry were quarter'd there laſt Winter, and the Inhabitants oblig'd to ſupply them with Fire and Candle, Bedding and Utenſils, Flour and Hay, inſomuch that there is neither Proviſions or Forage left in the whole Country, and the People expectly inſtantly to ſee the terrible Effects of Famine enter their Doors.

We hear that the Bounty-Money upon account of Exportation of Corn, paid by the Government ſince the late Demands commenced from abroad, amounts to almoſt 200,000 l.

Laſt Night about Six o'Clock, one of his Majeſty's Meſſengers arriv'd at St. James's from Paris, having been diſpatch'd from thence on Monday by the Right Hon. the Earl of Waldegrave, his Majeſty's Ambaſſador at the Court of France.

His Lordſhip arriv'd at Paris from London on Sunday Se'nnight, had an Audience of the King the Thurſday following, and a Conference with Cardinal Fleury on Sunday laſt.

They write from Briſtol, that one Capt. Newth of that Place having laſt Week a Quarrel with his Wife, on Account of an infamous Woman that happen'd to be preſent, he murder'd her in his Paſſion, and was immediately apprehended and carry'd to Priſon. They add, that the Gentleman, when he came to reflect on the impious and and unmanly Action he had committed, immediately divided his Fortune amongſt his four Children, and has ſince refus'd to receive any manner of Suſtenance, except Bread and Water.

PHILADELPHIA, June 5.

Wedneſday Morning died ſuddenly at Germantown Meeting, of an Apoplectic Fit, Iſaac Norris, of. Fairhill, Eſq; He had been many Years one of the Council, was often choſen a Repreſentative in Aſſembly, had born ſeveral other Offices of Honour and Truſt, and was eſteemed one of the moſt conſiderable Men in the Province.

We hear that a Propoſal has been offered to the Honourable Proprietors, for making Sale of a large Quantity of Land by way of Lottery; and that the ſame is likely to meet with their Approbation.

Laſt Week arrived a Ship with about 200 Switzers, Men, Women, and Children; they had been near 15 Weeks on Shipboard, and many of them were ill of the Scurvy, of which ſome have died ſince their Arrival, and the reſt who are under the Care of ſome of our Phyſicians, are like to do well.

Several Veſſels with Servants are lately arrived.

The Library Company of this City had their Yearly-Meeting the beginning of laſt Month, when an Addreſs to John Penn, Eſq; one of our Honourable Proprietors, who arrived in this Province ſince their laſt Meeting, was prepar'd and agreed to; but the Proprietors being out of Town, it was not preſented till laſt Week; it is as follows,

To the Honourable JOHN PENN, Eſq; one of the Proprietors of Pennſylavania.

The humble ADDRESS of the LIBRARY COMPANY of Philadelphia.

May it pleaſe your Honour,

THE Library Company of Philadelphia, as they are Pennſylvanians, finding themſelves under the ſtrongeſt Ties of Gratitude and Affection to your honourable Family, from which ſo many valuable Privileges are derived to the People of this Province; take this firſt Opportunity of expreſſing the Satisfaction they feel, in thus having two of their honourable Proprietors among them.

As nothing can be more glorious than the true Patriot, whoſe ſole View is the Publick Good, ſo no one ever merited that Title more juſtly than the great and honourable Founder of this Province; That excellent Conſtitution it enjoys, ſo perfectly adapted to the true Ends of Government, Security and Freedom, clearly demonſtrates the Wiſdom and Humanity of that great and good Man your Father, who firſt modelled and eſtabliſhed it; And with Pleaſure we obſerve, that the ſame Wiſdom, and the ſame benevolent Diſpoſition is the diſtinguiſhing Character of his Succeſſors.

As ſo excellent a Form of Government hath been anſwerable to the beneficent Views of the Author of it, in making this a flouriſhing Colony, it is not to be wondered at that ſome Men, (proceeding upon different Schemes, and of Courſe falling vaſtly ſhort in the great Work of Peopling a new Country) ſhould burn with Envy and Ill-will againſt your honourable Houſe; and labour, tho' we hope impotently, to injure thoſe whom they have not Minds generous enough to imitate.

Addreſſes are ſometimes look'd upon as Matter of meer Form and Compliment, and perhaps to ſuch who make Uſe of Power only to ſerve themſelves and promote their own particular Intereſts, they can conſiſt of little elſe; but he muſt be a Stranger to our Charter, and the ſingular Privileges we enjoy, who ſuſpects of Inſincerity the higheſt Expreſſions of Gratitude, from the People of Pennſylvania to their Proprietors.

What

What now ſeems moſt neceſſary to increaſe the Happineſs of a Country, poſſeſſed of ſo many Advantages, is the promoting of Knowledge and Virtue, that the Inhabitants may know how to eſteem thoſe Advantages as they ought, and appear not unworthy of them. To which End, the Erecting a Publick Library in this City, we hope may in ſome Meaſure contribute.

That Virtue, Learning and true Religion, may increaſe and flouriſh, under the Encouragement and Protection of your honourable Houſe, is our earneſt Wiſh and hearty Endeavour.

Signed by Order of the Library Company,
Joſeph Breintnall, Secr.

The Proprietor's ANSWER.

GENTLEMEN,

I AM obliged to You for the Regard You expreſs for my Self and Family in this Addreſs. I agree with You that the encouraging of Virtue and uſeful Knowledge will be of very great Service to this Province; and I ſhall always be ready with Pleaſure to promote ſo good and neceſſary an Undertaking, as the erecting a Publick Library in this City.
